PRICE THREE CENTS

DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS TO BE HONORED

The men who served on the Adams county Selective Service boards for the past five years without pay will receive bronze medals next Monday night honoring their "faithful and loyal" service.

Scheduled to go to Harrisburg for the ceremony from Gettysburg are M. E. Knouse, John C. Bream and Dr. R. D. Wickerham, members of Board No. 2 and Attorney E. V. Buleit, government appeal agent for the Gettysburg board.

Those from the New Oxford board planning to attend the affair are William J. Yingling, Lawrence P. Hoover and Albert Weaver, members of the New Oxford board and Attorney Richard A. Brown and J. Francis Yake, Jr., who have been government appeal agents for that board. It was pointed out today that Mr. Yingling holds an exceptional record in the state, having attended every weekly meeting of the board since its establishment in 1940.

1,838 To Be Honored
The awards Monday will be made to 1,838 Pennsylvanians who helped without pay in the Selective Service system and to relatives of 86 others who died since earning the public award, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

Other details of the award as listed by the AP include:

The presentations will be made at simultaneous ceremonies in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Erie, linked by radio with the central function in the Forum of the Education building at Harrisburg where Governor Martin will present the first award.

Major Henry M. Gross, acting State Director of Selective Service, will preside at the Harrisburg meeting, with a former state director heading-up each of the other local ceremonies. They will be Col. Benjamin F. Evans, at Scranton; Col. John McI. Smith at Erie, Col. Richard K. Mellon at Pittsburgh and Col. George H. Hafer at Philadelphia.

3 CANDIDATES FILE PAPERS

A Republican county committee-man, Merle H. B. Helkes, East Berlin R. 1, and two other Latimore township candidates, are the first to file their petitions at the office of the county commissioners. The others are Clair E. Grove and Edward C. Prosser, both York Springs R. 1.

Only the petitions of committee-men and Republican county chairman are filed here. Senators and Representatives in Congress and the state legislature file in Harrisburg. In Adams county, there are three Republican committeemen to be named in each township. Democrats elect two in all the towns and three in some districts. The Democratic organization in the county elects its chairman.

The petitions of John H. Basenore for Republican county chairman have been in circulation for several days. Petitions of Congressman Chester H. Gross were circulated at the Lincoln Day dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday evening.

February 9 was the first day to file petitions. March 11 will be the last.

20 Local Scouts On Lincoln Pilgrimage

Twenty Boy Scouts of Troop 79 of Gettysburg made a pilgrimage Tuesday, Lincoln's birthday, to the Lincoln Speech memorial statue in the National cemetery here and under the direction of Scoutmaster Glenn Sherman conducted brief exercises.

Scout Kimon Mitchell read a statement of the purpose and significance of the pilgrimage and Cornelius Dunham repeated Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Ranger Buehler read an appropriate poem after which the group stood in silence for a moment of tribute and then returned to town.

By their pilgrimage to the cemetery the 20 scouts qualified for wall posters of "Lincoln, the orator," the Lincoln figure on the Pennsylvania State memorial along Hancock avenue on the battlefield. The Lincoln posters are distributed by the Lincoln National Life Foundation.

The Scout troop enjoyed a valentine party Tuesday evening in their troop rooms at the St. James Lutheran church. Fifty girls and boys attended. Games, group singing, refreshments and a scavenger hunt were part of the program.

Will Enforce Meter Tickets

Motorists who ignore red tickets placed on their autos by borough police for parking meter violations will face formal charges before local justices of the peace, Burgess C. A. Heiges said today as he declared his intention of giving full support to the police in enforcement of the meter ordinance.

"There are approximately 25 red tickets out now beyond the time limit in which the motorists should have paid their fines or appeared," the burgess said. "We have been told that in some instances the car owners have torn up the tickets or otherwise ignored them."

The burgess pointed out that when an information is filed before a justice of the peace, the motorist becomes liable for a maximum fine of $50 and costs automatically are added by the justice.

START DRIVE TO CURTAIL HOME MISHAPS

In an effort to halt the number of home accidents which during the past year caused injury to hundreds of Adams countians the county's home economics clubs during the coming two weeks will devote all meetings to a study of methods of preventing the accidents.

Miss Mildred Adams, county home economics advisor, will show a number of slides depicting the most prevalent accidents and methods of avoiding them. A circular on "Practice of Safety" at home will be given the members for a discussion period. At the following week's meetings the members will bring in a filled-out questionnaire checking hazards in the home for discussion with the entire group.

On a national scale, Miss Adams pointed out, 30,000 people were killed in home accidents last year, 150,000 were permanently disabled and 5,000,000 were temporarily disabled. The cost of the home accidents in the U. S. was $65,000,000.

Fires In Homes
Most fires are caused by carelessness in the home. A number of injuries occurred to county people during the year from slips while wearing new shoes. Improper use of knives and cutting utensils caused another large number of home accidents in the county, it was said.

Among the home economics meetings scheduled for next week are: Monday, 1:30 p. m., Barlow, with Mrs. Howard Schwartz; Monday, 7:30 p. m., Greenmount, with Mrs. Garland Baker; Tuesday, 1:30 p. m., Conewago, with Mrs. Arthur Hippensteel, and at 7:30 p. m., York Springs, on Wednesday the York Top club will meet at 1:30 p. m. with Mrs. Allen Harman and at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. Melvin Hoover will entertain the Hampton club. Thursday meetings include East Berlin with Mrs. Elda Kling at 1:30 p. m. and New Chester at 7:30 p. m. with Mrs. Cletus Milhimes.

Town Briefs
Gettysburgians recently exhibited a trait common to many Americans—that of contributing their nickels and dimes without asking what the collection was for.

The gentleman with the tamborine wore a suit of dark blue serge and a uniform cap. On the lapels of his coat were embroidered gold crosses. There were letters on his jacket. Few persons, gathered in a restaurant here when he solicited them, heard his low-voiced request. They just dug down, and shelled out.

After he had left, someone said: "What was that for?" Few if any knew to what they had contributed. One guess, which was wrong, was that it was for the Blue and Grey band. The gentleman looked like a member of the Salvation Army, but he wasn't. Which, if this story proves anything, shows that the diners, like others, gave to be rid of the solicitor, or, self-consciously are afraid of feeling cheap by saying "no."

The borough police department is, or at least was, afflicted with an ailment common to a great many people during and since the war years—automobile trouble. It became so bad recently that officers were forced to push the police car several times in one evening to get it started. It starts now—but for how long?

The highway in West Middle street, particularly adjacent to the court house, is rapidly becoming no better. The Pennsylvania highway department a month or so ago did some patching on the street.

DR. WENTZ WILL ATTEND WORLD CHURCH SESSION

Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, president of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will leave Thursday from LaGuardia Field, New York, by plane for Geneva, Switzerland, where he will attend the meetings of the Provisional (Executive) committee of the World Council of Churches to be held from February 18 to 25. He plans to spend one day in London before proceeding to Switzerland for the sessions.

Twenty-six of the 34 delegates from throughout the world are expected to attend the executive committee meetings where plans will be laid for a meeting of the general assembly probably in 1948, at which some 500 delegates from all of the 91-church organization affiliated with the World Council will be present. One of the details to be worked out at the executive committee meeting will be the method of selecting the delegates for the convention.

One of Nine From U. S.
Doctor Wentz is one of nine church leaders going to the meeting from the United States, and is one of the organizers of the international association. He was selected by the World Conference on Faith and Order at Edinburgh, Scotland, as a delegate to the World Council constitutional convention at Utrecht, Holland, in 1938. The members of the Provisional Committee were named at the convention.

At the constitutional convention offices were set up by the World Council in Geneva and in New York, with the New York office for peoples in other countries.

When established in 1938 as an outgrowth of the World Conference of Faith and Order and the Universal Christian Conference on Life and Work, the World Council had about 40 members. Now the number includes 90 Protestant churches and the Greek Catholic church.

Heads Lutheran Convention
The World Conference on Faith and Order was established in 1927 and the Universal Christian Conference in 1935.

In 1937 Doctor Wentz attended conferences of both of the International organizations, held at Oxford, England, and Edinburgh, Scotland, and it was at those sessions that the plans for the World Conference were outlined. The program of the

Minor Blaze Today In Local Garage

Fire, apparently started by a defective wire, caused damage estimated at "several hundred dollars" to the paint shop of the Adams County Motors corporation on York street about 7 o'clock this morning.

Workmen opening the garage at 7 o'clock this morning discovered the fire which apparently had started only a few minutes before. They put out the flames with extinguishers available in the garage. The Gettysburg fire company was not called.

The fire was the second in town within 24 hours, with the local fire company called at 5:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to the home of Roy E. Goldsmith, 37 Breckenridge street, to put out a chimney fire.

Jail Marylander For Disorderliness

Wilbur F. Libby, 20, of Westminster, Md., arrested at 12:30 a. m. Sunday on a disorderly conduct charge, pleaded guilty at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Tuesday night, was fined $10 and costs, and committed to jail for 30 days in default of the fine.

Libby was arrested by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster and charged with flashing a light into apartment windows on Baltimore street and at automobiles, and whistling at cars.

Ikkes Resigns; Challenges Pres. Truman's Judgment

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold L. Ikkes, original New Dealer, resigned as Secretary of Interior today bluntly challenging President Truman's right to pass judgment on his "veracity."

"I cannot stay on when you, in effect, have expressed lack of confidence in me," Ikkes said in a lengthy letter to the President which he made public after the White House announced his resignation.

The resignation of the "Old Curmudgeon" who took office with Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, grew out of Ikkes' opposition to the nomination of Edward W. Pauley to be Undersecretary of the Navy, and the President's support of the California oil man.

Ikkes asked to be relieved March 31. But Mr. Truman made the resignation effective Friday, Feb. 15. The President's letter of acceptance was not made public.

The President designated Oscar L. Chapman, a Coloradoan who has served 13 years as an assistant secretary, to take over Ikkes' duties pending the appointment of a permanent secretary.

Ikkes' 2,000-word letter of resignation said of his testimony in opposition to the nomination of Pauley:

"I cannot accept the theory that I should have told the Senate Naval Affairs Committee anything less than the truth. I have no apologies for having done so, although I did regret the unhappy personal position in which I have involuntarily found myself."

Ikkes told the committee that Pauley had advanced the "rawest proposition ever made to me" by suggesting that $300,000 could be raised in campaign contributions from California oil men if the government would drop its suit to establish federal title to oil-bearing tidewater lands.

This Pauley denied, saying Ikkes was mistaken. The President, too, told a press conference that Ikkes could be wrong, and this provided the springboard for the 71-year-old secretary's resignation.

SOROPTIMISTS VOTE DONATIONS

The directors of the Soroptimist club met at Hotel Eberhart Tuesday night at 7 o'clock with Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president presiding.

In accordance with the motion passed at the fall conference of the North Atlantic region of Soroptimist clubs a fellowship in plastic surgery will be given to an outstanding woman surgeon in the region. The local club will support this fellowship on the basis of $1.50 per member. The award will be given at the spring conference in Harrisburg in March.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hennig, treasurer, was instructed to pay out the contributions: $10 to the Y.W.C.A.; $5 to the Committee on Colored Church Work and $10 to the Adams county Red Cross.

Following the board meeting and in celebration of Lincoln's Birthday the president read from "Memories of Lincoln," by Walt Whitman, "This Dust Was Once the Man," and "O Captain! My Captain!" which was followed by a discussion of the life of Lincoln.

Due to the lack of quorum caused by illness of members and absence from town the formal business meeting was delayed until next week at Hotel Eberhart. Mrs. Wayne Keet gave a report on the Teen Canteen situation and Mrs. Fred Slegel reported on the Soroptimist dinner to be held on February 26. The group has been invited to Valley Forge General hospital on February 22 to attend the formal dedication of 14 sun rooms, one of which the local club helped to equip.

County Drive Chairman M. B. Frazee, members of the executive group of the drive committee and chapter officials will meet at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the Red Cross rooms. Materials to be sent to all local chairmen for the drive will be made ready for distribution following the session.

ELKS TO HOLD DANCE
The Gettysburg Lodge of Elks will hold a Valentine dance at the lodge home on York street Thursday evening for members and their lady friends. Music for dancing, which will start at 9:30 o'clock, will be furnished by Dell's orchestra of Hanover.

Mrs. Mark K. Eckert entertained the members of the Tuesday Bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Springs avenue.

Fuel Edict Is Lifted For Gotham; Two Strikes End

(By The Associated Press)
Life gushed back into New York city's business arteries today and the way was cleared for a possible new effort to hurdle the one cent an hour difference blocking settlement of the General Motors strike.

New York city, almost a ghost town yesterday with all except essential activities barred, swung quickly back to normal today with lifting of the drastic fuel shortage edict. Fuel rationing remained in effect, however, and schools kept their doors closed.

The National Labor Relations Board postponed a hearing in Detroit on charges of the CIO United Auto Workers Union that General Motors corporation failed to bargain in good faith. George D. Reilly, trial examiner, said the "primary reason" was to permit a possible resumption of GM-UAW wage negotiations.

Crucial Strikes End
Reilly added, however, he knew of no arrangements for further negotiations today. He said the postponement was for today only. The union turned down a company offer of an 18 1/2 cents an hour wage boost yesterday and UAW Vice President Walter P. Reuther said union representatives wouldn't resume negotiations until the corporation was willing to meet the 19 1/2 cents recommendation of a Presidential fact-finding board.

Meanwhile, the end of crucial strikes which had discommoded millions in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia as well as New York, brightened the immediate labor picture.

Settlement of the work stoppages by power and transit workers and lifting the shutdown edict in the world's greatest city came after a day of inconvenience and confusion to most of the millions living in the three great eastern cities, the most hectic day along the labor front in the post-war period.

Tugboat Strike Goes On
While New York city resumed near-normal operations of its commercial, industrial and amusement activities after 18 hours of paralysis, the labor dispute which was the cause of the shut-down remained unsettled.

And immediately, there were no indications of an end of the 10-day strike of 3,500 APL tugboat workers, whose walkout caused a drastic fuel shortage and brought about Mayor William O'Dwyer's shutdown order. The union has agreed to submit the wage-hour dispute to arbitration but tugboat owners have not yet reached agreement among themselves on procedure for arbitration.

In Pittsburgh, 3,400 employees of the Duquesne Light company, went back to their jobs after a 19-hour work stoppage in a dispute over wages. The strike, which threatened a complete power failure in the greater Pittsburgh industrial area, affected some 1,500,000 residents of nearly 100 communities. In Pittsburgh, street cars were halted, schools closed, homes darkened and thousands of workers kept idle.

The strike ended upon agreement to establish a three-man board to mediate the wage dispute. The strikers (independent) demanded a 20 per cent wage increase while the company offered a 7 1/2 per cent hike.

Hospital Prexy Does Good Turn

C. A. Bixler, president of the board of directors of the Warner hospital, and a member of the board for many years, Tuesday found himself not only thinking of policy for the hospital, but also actively engaged in delivering an emergency patient.

The head of the local United Telephone district was driving towards Gettysburg when he noticed a car stalled ahead of him. He stopped and attempted to start the car by pushing it with his vehicle. When that failed the driver of the stalled machine asked Mr. Bixler if he would drive the wife of the owner of the stalled car to the hospital — for the lady was about to have a baby.

Bixler made the trip and ten minutes after the arrival at the hospital the expected hearse arrived, a fine baby daughter.

NEW FEVER CASE

The fourth Adams county household to be quarantined this winter for scarlet fever was placed this morning by William I. Shields, state sanitary officer for Adams county. He tagged the home of Edward J. Heiser, Germany township, Littlestown R. 1, because of the illness of a seven-year-old daughter, Betty J., a student at Ash Grove school.

Don't miss the Grand Opening of the Rose Room, Park Hotel in New Oxford tonight, February 13. Fine and dance and be entertained by the Eddie Dunlap Quartet with Marie Allen, song stylist.

ADVANCE PLANS FOR LAYMEN'S RALLY FEB. 24

Arrangements for the program in connection with the address here Sunday, February 24, by Dr. Earl G. Harrison, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law school, were completed Monday night by the committee in charge at a meeting in the Hotel Gettysburg.

The affair is sponsored by the Religious Laymen's association of Gettysburg and is the first rally of laymen from throughout the county to be held by the newly organized group.

Scheduled to open the program is the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the audience with the words to the song to be shown on the screen at the Majestic theater where the rally will be held.

Men's Chorus to Sing
Burgess C. A. Heiges will deliver the opening prayer followed by an audience participation song led by the Business Men's Chorus directed by George Raffensperger. Present plans call for the chorus to be made up of 30 men from throughout the county.

William H. Pensyl will present a brief reading and the Business Men's Chorus will sing a special number.

The principles of the laymen's organization will be outlined by the president, Dr. Thomas L. Cline, after which another number will be sung by the chorus. Doctor Cline will introduce Judge W. C. Sheely who in turn will present Doctor Harrison.

"Hate Vs. Brotherhood"

"Hate Versus Brotherhood" will be the topic of the Philadelphia attorney's address. He plans to give many details of his findings in Europe during a recent investigation conducted by him at the direction of President Truman into the condition of the Jewish peoples in Germany after the war. Another song by the group led by the chorus and dismissal prayer by Frank Dougherty will conclude the program.

Charles Rodgers will be the organist accompanying the singing. George W. Naugle, T. D. Hay and Irving Bierer are members of the program committee.

Oliver Kuykendall Is Granted Parole

Oliver Kuykendall, Jr., Gettysburg R. 5, was paroled from the county jail, upon payment of a fine and costs, by the county court Monday. Kuykendall had been confined to jail upon failure to pay the fine and costs after being found guilty of assault and battery in a recent court trial.

A petition was read in county court Monday by Attorney John P. Butt asking parole for Charles Kuykendall, Gettysburg R. D., who is in jail on a three months sentence on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The court did not act on that petition but at the end of Attorney Butt's plea granted a parole to Oliver Kuykendall upon payment of the fine and costs.

URGES RETURN TO PRINCIPLES OF A. LINCOLN

Declaring that "We have victoriously fought two wars to guarantee the American way of life, only to have it endangered by gross ineptitude, political ambition and deliberate destructiveness here at home," William S. Livengood, Jr., secretary of internal affairs of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, drew a parallel between 1846 and the present at a Lincoln Day dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday night with the declaration that "It is for us to continue the struggle to which Lincoln gave his life."

More than 200 at the Republican-sponsored dinner held under the auspices of the Adams county Republican committee, heard Mr. Livengood refer to strikes as the weapon of minority groups, inflicting hardships on the whole people, and declare that one of the "many circumstances that have brought our present unhappy condition to pass" includes "government by and for groups, rather than by and for all the people."

Democracy In Danger

Lincoln was born, Mr. Livengood declared, at a time when ulterior forces, bent upon advantages for the few over the rights of the many, already were rising to endanger the American heritage. "I very seriously believe that our American system of government, as our forefathers conceived it, and as Abraham Lincoln interpreted it, is, indeed, in great peril at this very moment," the speaker asserted.

"It is for us to continue the struggle to which Lincoln gave his life—a continuing struggle from generation to generation," Mr. Livengood continued. "The time is now and has long been at hand when we must legislate, adjudicate and administer in the interests of all the people of all the states and nation. . . . No law should ever be placed upon the statute books with the thought that it will be all right only if administered by the party and persons in power at the moment."

Hope lies in the smaller communities, rather than in the cities, Mr. Livengood declared, in an appeal for greater "awareness" on the part of Adams countians and others in similar communities.

New Slavery Threatens

"For 5,000 years man's history has been a succession of forging and breaking the chains of human slavery; becoming free, they soon become bound by the spirit of lethargy and as a result of their lack of vigilance or their surrender of liberty for temporary security, allow power to drift from the people into the hands of one man or a small group of men," Mr. Livengood said. . . . "In all the centuries of written history there is not a single recorded instance of power once lost ever coming back to the people, except as a result of bloodshed and the loss of human life."

"Again we stand where Lincoln and his compatriots stood. A new form of slavery threatens. A new form of tyranny raises its ugly

Shanghai, Feb. 13 (P)—Maj. Gen. Masataka Kaburagi said in a signed statement today that the humiliating parade of three American fliers in Hankow Dec. 16, 1944, was designed to force Chiang Kai-shek to ask the United States to halt bombing near that city.

Calcutta, Feb. 13 (P)—British troops quieted rioting Hindus and Moslems in Calcutta today as the city's second outbreak of destruction within two and a half months subsided after taking a toll of at least 22 dead and more than 200 injured. The soldiers were in complete control of the city.

Washington, Feb. 14 (P)—Pearl Harbor investigators heard today that on the day before the Japanese attack an intelligence officer predicted to an army staff meeting in Hawaii that "something warlike by Japan is about to happen somewhere."

Detroit, Feb. 13 (P)—A scheduled resumption of the National Labor Relations Board hearing on CIO United Auto Workers charges that General Motors Corp. had failed to bargain in good faith with the union was suddenly postponed this morning.

FORMER LOCAL PASTOR WRITES PILOT'S PSALM

The Rev. Edward H. Jones, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church here about 20 years ago and now a chaplain in the U. S. Army, used a new slant for the old words of the 23rd Psalm, according to a story appearing in the Pathfinder, national news weekly.

Under the title, "Pilot's Psalm," he weekly carried the following story about the Rev. Mr. Jones:

"An army transport plane shuddered through an Alaskan storm, passengers clutched at safety-belts, ingered parachutes. One man however, turned to the 23rd Psalm for comfort, changed the words to fit the situation.

"The Lord is my Pilot; I shall not crash. He maketh me to fly in clear skies; He leadeth me down to smooth landings; He keepeth my chart. He guideth me through the pathless ways of the skies for His name's sake. Yea, though I fly through the storms and tempests of life, I shall dread no danger; for Thou art near me; Thy love and Thy care, they protect me. Thou prearest an airport before me in the homeland of eternity; Thou emblazonest the skies with Thy beauty; my plane flies gracefully. Surely sunlight and starlight shall favor me on the flight I take, and I will abide in the presence of my God forever."

head. The need of the day is for all patriotic, liberty-loving Americans to dedicate themselves now, as Lincoln did then, to the good of the whole through the freedom of the individual, lest we lose here at home what we fought a global war to preserve.

"Right Makes Might"

"As Lincoln, at Gettysburg, re-dedicated the nation to a new birth of freedom, that government of the people, by the people and for the people, should not perish from the earth, so now we must re-dedicate ourselves to the great task of restoring to its full strength and vigor the truly Republican form of government our freedom-loving fathers gave us. . . . The spirit of Lincoln lights our path. Let us believe with him that 'right makes might,' and in that faith let us to the end, dare to do our duty as we understand it."

The dinner program was opened with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," led by Miss Viola Sachs, with Robert Jones at the piano. The invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church. John H. Baschore, chairman of the Adams County Republican committee, presided as toastmaster. Guests introduced included Congressman Chester H. Gross, Lloyd D. Stambaugh, county chairman of Perry county, Representative R. M. Barton, Perry county and Adams County Vice Chairman Mrs. Esther Hayberger.

Three solos were given by Miss Marian Stambaugh, "America My Own," "Strange Music," and "Look for the Silver Lining." She was accompanied by Mr. Jones at the piano. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address was recited by Frank Moore, Fairfield. Lincoln's history, from his birth 133 years ago, was traced briefly by John D. Lippy, Jr., who pointed out that the words of Lincoln's address here in 1863 have become immortal, while the two-hour speech of Edward Everett, leading orator of his day, are remembered now by few. There are more than 400 monuments erected to the memory of Lincoln be said; 7,000 books and pamphlets have been written about him, and his words, outside of the Bible, are the most quoted in America.

The dinner closed with the singing of "God Bless America" and the benediction by Dr. Gresh. Mr. Livelygood was presented with a gift from the Republican county committee, and afterwards was a guest of Mr. Lippy on a visit to the Lincoln room in the Wills house, his first visit to this historic shrine.

U. S. MAY CURB WHEAT USE IN POULTRY FEED

By OVID A. MARTIN

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Drastic government steps may be taken soon to force a sharp cut in poultry flocks as one means of helping feed hungry people abroad.

One of the reasons the United States suddenly discovered that its stocks of wheat are too low to keep up present domestic consumption and still meet export commitments is that large amounts of the grain have been diverted into poultry feeds.

To stop such feeding of wheat, the Agriculture Department may issue an order forbidding its use in the manufacture of mixed chicken feeds.

Such an order is being considered by department officials in connection with President Truman's wheat conservation directive last week. At that time the Chief Executive ordered action by government agencies to place Americans on dark flour and bread, to prohibit the use of wheat in making beer and whiskey, and to discourage its use as a livestock feed.

In addition to the possible poultry feed order, the Agriculture Department also is considering steps to limit the commercial output of baby chicks.

With poultry flocks larger than government estimates of need, the department late last year urged farmers to reduce their flocks by at least 13 per cent by January 1 by culling the less productive egg producers. It also recommended that poultrymen raise 17 per cent fewer chickens and 10 per cent fewer turkeys this year.

Preliminary surveys indicate, officials say, that poultry flocks were not reduced by the amount urged.

Some officials contend, however, that the scarcity of feed supplies in itself will force poultrymen to make the suggested reductions in flocks and in new poultry production and that a government order restricting commercial hatchery operations is unnecessary.

but it is cracking and breaking up again. With an unprecedentedly large highway program this year, the state probably will resurface this year.

CHS CAGERS IN 49-16 TRIUMPH OVER SQUIRES

After a rather loosely played first half the Gettysburg high school cagers hit a fast pace in the third period to crush Delone Catholic high 49-16 in a game played on the local floor Tuesday evening.

The victory marked the 12th in 4 starts for the Maroons and their eighth in a row.

Dave Rasmussen, regular forward, was missing from the local lineup due to illness. Tom McGlaughlin replaced him in the starting lineup.

So tight was the Maroon defense throughout the evening that the Squires could register but four field goals, one each in the four periods.

Lead Throughout

Coach Forney's lads led throughout, scoring first after about three minutes on a goal by McGlaughlin. Brady knotted the score on a side shot but Gorman added a one-and-then Raffensperger a short shot to put the Maroons out front after which they were never headed.

At the end of the first period Gettysburg led 9-5.

Raffensperger, Gorman and Hess hit the nets for the Maroons in the second period to boost the lead to 18-8 at half time. Delone's points were confined to a long toss by Brady and a foul by Leonard.

The Forney-men were a much improved club in the third period and poured 19 points through the hoop with each of the regulars scoring one or more goals. Gettysburg was on top 37-14 going into the last period.

Conches Forney and Dracha used up their reserves in the final period and each mentor used his entire squad.

Jayvees Win

Bill Ridinger's scrubs hung up another victory in the preliminary game with an easy 33-7 decision.

On Friday the Maroons journey to Waynesboro for a southern division game of the South Penn conference.

Manhattan Sports Return To Normal

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—New York's thriving sports business, momentarily staggered by Mayor William O'Dwyer's shutdown order, returned to normal today following the lifting of the 18-hour ban on places of amusement.

None of last night's shows were cancelled outright and two of them—the New York Golden Glove semifinals and the Pennsylvania-Columbia Eastern Intercollegiate league basketball tilt—will be staged to-night.

Although the metropolitan intercollegiate board track championships were to be held on Columbia's outdoor field, the athletes were forced to put off the title competition until March 16 because city officials wouldn't permit the use of the locker and shower rooms.

The Park Arena boxing card, featuring Heavyweights Lee Q. Murray, of South Norwalk, Conn., and Larry Lane, Trenton, N. J., Negro, was moved back to Thursday night.

Bullets, Diplomats Meet Here Tonight

This evening the Gettysburg college cagers will seek their tenth victory of the season when Franklin and Marshall is met on the local floor.

Coach "Hen" Bream indicated today he may alter his starting lineup in order to give several veterans a rest but hinted that all would see at least part-time action.

At 7 o'clock the Bullet reserves will clash with the Lutheran Theological seminary quintet.

WAR CHANGED GOLF LITTLE

New Orleans, Feb. 13 (AP)—Is golf back in its pre-war stride, or have the pros who recently hung up their uniforms some personal reconversion to do?

Fred Corcoran, who shepherds them around the PGA circuit, can look back six years and not see much difference.

"In 1940 when we passed through here it was Nelson, Hogan and Snead," he said. "Today it's Nelson, Hogan and Snead again."

He was talking about the New Orleans open, which begins here Thursday.

Corcoran quoted Bryon Nelson as expecting a tussle for the title he's defending:

"Nelson thinks competition will be tougher and might affect his average, which was 68.33 last year. With the competition too close, the medal play itself might be affected."

Corcoran himself is high on Nelson's future.

"I don't think he's had his greatest year," the tournament manager declared. "He's going to be even better. He wants so much to keep on and his concentration is so great he'll be on top again."

ARENDTSTVILLE DRUBS DOVER

Arendtsville swept a pair of basketball games from the Dover high cagers in games played Tuesday evening at Arendtsville.

The Arendtsville girls chalked up their 14th straight victory against one defeat by taking the preliminary tilt 40-15. At half time Arendtsville led 18-5. E. Diveley looped 18 points for the victors.

Arendtsville will be host to the Biglerville teams Friday night.

Just Folks

SPOILED

In days ere ease had spoiled me
I'd take the trolley car
And gladly go a-visiting, nor care
how late or far.
Then, many a time, light-hearted,
my Nellie went with me.
We'd brave all sorts of weather for
a friendly cup of tea.

Back then our hearts were stouter
and our legs were young and strong.
And distances were shorter and the
waits seemed not too long,
But no one seemed to mind it in
those happier days of old Or stayed at home a-sulking, just because the wind was cold.

Has custom changed entirely, or is
the fault with me?
My car is out of order, so at home
I choose to be.
Too long I hold the journey for
the bus or trolley car.
And today a mile for walking seems
just a bit too far.

So home I stay a-sulking and leave
my friends alone.
"My car is in the workshop," I tell
them on the phone.
Has just my courage softened, or
is it so with all
That save we go in comfort we will not go at all?

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
WEALTH

Wealth is such a relative affair.
A man with millions in material
wealth may have a brain so puny
in human worth and a soul so shrivelled that only the poor-elect could
cast a look of pity upon him.

Said Henry D. Thoreau: "A man
is rich in proportion to the number of things which he can afford to let alone."

The lover of wealth thinks he can't afford to let a day go by without grasping for something more.
Losing his soul in the operation
never seems to occur to him, though
this is the only thing in life worth saving, enriching, and distributing.

Why should we "keep up" with anyone? Why shouldn't we keep up with ourselves, never letting a foot slip backward, eyes forward, into the light, and upward, toward something higher in value than mere gain for boastful purposes? Why should we expect a return for a good deed or a thought sent voy-
aging around the world?

To be a distributor of spiritual wealth is to be rich indeed. And of those material things that we cannot afford, we can afford "to let alone!" No loss at all, and a distinct gain.

At the present time, where I now
am, in the sunshine, and surrounded by great beauty, I own great gardens, extravagant estates, even the city itself, with the ocean thrown in! And at night-time the diamond-dotted sky, to say nothing of the superb sunrises and sunsets. And with others worrying about the upkeep and mortgages. Wealth of love and appreciation, stored in your heart, never gives you sleepless nights.

It is tragic to want so much and to be so busy at the job of gaining that you find no time in which to live and love! To say nothing about learning.

So habitually we look upon the beautifully and expensively equipped car that a man drives, or upon
the great estate that a man owns,
and say: "What a rich man he must be!" But how few of us look into the eye of a man, no matter
how materially equipped he may be,
and wonder about the wealth of his mind and heart. You can acquire the latter—but it can't be bought.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Summer School"

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Milk Down To Ten Cents: Announcement is made of another decline in the price of milk here.

Starting Monday milk will be sold
for ten cents a quart and five cents
a pint. This is a reduction of one cent in each case and is the lowest price for milk here in the last three years.

Faculty Members Dine: Members
of the seminary, college and academy faculties and their wives assembled in the Hoffman hotel Tuesday night for the annual banquet
of the Inter-Fraternity club. Fifty persons were present at the banquet.

Kiddies' Club Starts: Monday
marked the beginning of the scholastic careers of seventeen small Gettysburg children who convened
at nine o'clock in the little building
beside the jail for the first session
of the Kiddies' club.

Miss Henrietta Hersh and Miss Amelia Butt are teachers of the Kiddies' club.

Starting Day Uncertain: The Gettysburg and Reaser furniture
factories failed to open on Monday
and it is difficult to determine when they will open.

Twenty-five men are now working
in the shipping and rubbing department in the Gettysburg plant.

Large Crowd at Parochial Play:
Xavier hall was crowded to capacity
Monday evening for the presentation of the entertainment and playlet, "Just Plain Dot," given by the pupils of St. Francis Xavier school,
for the benefit of the school.

In the cast of the play were Cor-
ine King, Catherine Redding, Evelyn Gallagher, Virginia Ramer, Rose
Smith, Edward McSherry, Florence
Rummel, Martha Irvin, Helen Cunningham, Ruth Abell, Richard Co-
dori, John Eckenrode, Martin Redding and Regina Redding.

A specialty between the acts was a duet by Richard Eberhart and Angela Stock "When You and I Were Young, Maggie."

The pianists were Miss Mary Ramer, Miss Margaret Allison and Miss Ethel Grace Allison.

Will Give $2,000 for Hospital: At their regular weekly meeting in the court house Tuesday afternoon, the Adams county commissioners, Reuben H. Lupp, William M. Linn and Walter C. Snyder, definitely, decided to appropriate $2,000 to the Annie M. Warner hospital after that institution has commenced operation.

If on October 1, the financial conditions of the county permit, the commissioners state that at that time they will appropriate another $1,000 of the county fund to the cause.

Marriage License: Foster Henry
Linard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry
C. Linard, and Mary Jane Linn, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Linn,
both of Gettysburg, were granted a marriage license on Wednesday by
J. R. Hartman, clerk of the courts.

Will Make Effort to Aid Children:
Adams county's quota in the great
drive to save the lives of 3,500,000
starving children in the countries of Central Europe is $2,000. This announcement was made by Rev. Paul R. Pontius, who has been appointed chairman for the work in the county. John D. Keith, Esq., has been named treasurer.

Heavy Drain on Charity Fund:
As the result of the unusually heavy
drain on the Eichelberger Charity Fund, that source of supply for the needy poor of Gettysburg is now exhausted and no further income will be received from that endowment
before April 1. Gifts may be sent to Philip Bille, borough treasurer,
or they will be forwarded through
The Times. All will be acknowledged.

The fund is carefully handled by a committee of women of which Mrs.
J. I. Butt is the chairman.

Honor Lincoln at Big Banquet:
Two hundred and fifty persons, consisting of Sons of Veterans, their wives and friends, members of the Grand Army of the Republic and veterans of the Civil War assembled
in the G.A.R. post rooms Saturday night to celebrate the 112th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth.

George J. Benner, Esq., was the principal speaker of the evening.
William L. Meals, Esq., was master of ceremonies and Dr. T. C. Billheimer offered the opening prayer
and pronounced the benediction.

Personal: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Champlain, Breckenridge street, announce the birth of a daughter on Friday.

A very enjoyable surprise party
was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trimmer, of West Middle street, in honor of their daughter, Helen.

Mrs. William A. Granville entertained thirty-one co-eds of the institution at dinner in the "White

News Of Interest To Upper Communities Of County

BENDERSVILLE
FIREMEN PLAN
NEW PLAY SPOT

One of the finest community
playgrounds and ball fields in the county—that's the aim of the Bendersville fire company in the construction of a new field and playground on the hill above the community hall in the upper county
borough.

Work on the grounds started Monday with the start of grading of the area. A Mechanicsburg concern has already moved much of the earth
to level the site and expects to complete its work in ten days.

While the firemen have made no
estimate as yet as to the entire cost
of the grounds, individual members
felt that the expenditures may exceed $1,500.

Planned for the grounds are the
ball park, tennis courts, swings,
slides and other playground equipment. Work on bleachers for the ball park will begin in the spring and
the company hopes to have the work completed by summer.

Hope For Ball Team
The grounds would be the home
field for the Bendersville team in the Adams county baseball league,
which the town hopes will soon be reorganized. Many of the players who made up the Bendersville squad
prior to the war have returned from the service and a strong team is expected to develop by the coming summer.

Swings and horseshoe courts are
to be installed, with much of the equipment to be placed in the woods adjoining the open field being developed for the baseball diamond.

While the grounds is being developed for the community the fire
company will probably retain title
to the ground, according to present
plans.

Donald Garretson and Guy Stock
are members of the committee in charge of the development.

DDT Useful For Potato Growers

Adams county's potato growers
will do well to consider DDT, the new insect-killing chemical, for their 1946 plantings, says J. C. Pepper, extension insect specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, as he announced results of 33 demonstrations in 17 counties conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service
last season.

Use of DDT as a spray, mixed with Bordeaux, was watched in 30 demonstrations in 16 counties, with seven varieties of potatoes. These spray demonstrations showed an increase of 74 bushels per acre over potatoes
sprayed with the usual Bordeaux
alone. Varieties in these demonstrations were: Katahdin, Bliss Triumph, Cobbler, White Rural, Russet
Rural, Menominee and Sebago.

Possibilities of DDT as a dust,
along with fixed copper dusts, were watched in three demonstrations in three counties, with Katahdin and Sequoia potatoes. With an average of five applications for the season,
an increase in yield of 92 bushels
per acre was observed over the use of the ordinary "potato dust," Pepper reported.

Apples Need Companion Trees—
Since apple trees depend upon
"companion" or pollinator varieties
for good pollination, the trees of any one variety should not be planted
in large solid blocks, according to J. L. McCartney, extension fruit specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. Where such blocks are established, grafting and the use of bouquets from suitable trees at blossoming time, are suggested as temporary remedial measures.

Observe Good Rotation — Good
crop rotations, including use of
good hay sods at frequent intervals,
are important factors in effective
soil management programs. Sods supply needed organic material to the soil, improve its physical condition and fertility, and retard erosion.

COUNTY GRADING ADOPTED BY U. S.

The standards developed after years of study and experiment in Adams county canneries and in other canneries throughout the state
by the state Bureau of Markets for the grading of green peas and lima beans for canning and freezing have proved so successful that the United States Department of Agriculture
has adopted them as U. S. Standard grades for national use, according to State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst.

The Pennsylvania-developed
standards for grading fresh shelled peas for processing were made
U. S. Standard grades as of January 15 and these for fresh shelled lima beans were adopted as of December 27.

In Wide Demand
Secretary Horst said that state
inspections for the grading of fruits
and vegetables for canning and freezing have been requested by an increasing number of Pennsylvania growers each year. Grades are established for various products so as to facilitate transactions between growers and processors who desire
to contract on the basis of quality
of produce delivered at the processing plant.

"These grades," he said, "are an outgrowth of the widely accepted
principle that price should be directly proportional to quality. The conscientious grower who adopts modern cultural practices and delivers
a quality product deserves a premium
price because such fruits and vegetables enable a processor to pack
a better quality finished product."

Will Reconvert Pa.
Farm Show Building

An effort is being made to determine what changes may be made in the state Farm Show building in Harrisburg for improvement of the annual show when the War Department starts physical restoration of the 10-acre structure following cancellation of its lease on February 21, according to Miles Horst, state
Secretary of Agriculture and chairman of the state Farm Show commission.

The commission, at its recent Farm Show Week meeting, appointed a committee of three of its members to make a careful study
of the building and report suggestions that might aid to the efficiency and attractiveness of the annual event.

U. S. Army engineers now have the responsibility for restoring the building as it existed when first taken over in 1942 as a school for civilian workers at army air depots and later converted to the reconditioning of airplane engines. They will require several months in which to complete this work since
had to be changed. Commission members believe that the work can be completed in time to resume the annual Farm Show in the building
next January.

SHIRLEY'S CAT
LIKES SCHOOL

"Mary had a little lamb, whose fleece was white as snow and everywhere that Mary went the lamb was sure to go," is an old nursery rhyme
that one Bendersville youngster has translated into actual practice.

In this case the rhyme should go,
"Shirley had a little cat, it's fur
was never black at that, it followed her to school one day and ever after
like to stay."

The girl is Shirley Bittinger, 11-
year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Herman Bittinger, a student in the Bendersville grade school.

The cat in question is a six months
old feline named "Tab" who appeared on the streets of Bendersville
about 5½ months ago as a shivering, tiny creature that was believed to have ridden down from the coal regions on a truck and decided to stay in Bendersville. Miss Kathryn Riley found the kitten and adopted
the homeless waif.

At first the kitten followed Shirley but only went as far as the school. Then recently the cat took
to staying at the school for classes.
But the teacher decided that the kitten was not keeping up with the class and it has been expelled from the school.

Now when Shirley goes to school
the cat merely looks longingly after
her. But it can and does follow her nearly every other place in the borough.

New Markets Will

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

SOON TO LAUNCH PREPARATIONS FOR 1946 FAIR

The South Mountain Fair, a feature of Adams county agricultural and educational life since shortly after the first World War, soon will be back in all its glory after cancelling its activities for the duration of World War II.

M. E. Knouse, Arendtsville, chairman of the board for the South Mountain Fair association, announced today that a meeting of the committee will be held, "probably before the end of the month" to discuss plans to get the fair back into operation this coming fall.

An annual highlight of the county's agricultural and social activities, the fair had reached its highest proportions at the start of the war when gasoline rationing and governmental requests for conservation and increased production led the fair officials to cancel all activities for the duration.

Set State Records in '45
Officials expect the coming fair to be the largest ever to be held judging by the experience of the 65 other county and community fairs which were held last year despite the war time shortages.

Miles Horst, state Secretary of Agriculture, recently announced that the fairs last season had the largest gross income of record beginning with the year 1937. However the fairs had approximately 2,000,000 less customers last year than in the record-breaking fall of 1939.

According to Secretary Horst's report cash receipts from all sources at 1945 fairs totaled $1,059,757, making it the first million-dollar year since 1937 when gross receipts from 79 fairs totaled $1,017,622, of $42,135 less than 1945. Expenses, exclusive of premiums, in 1945 amounted to $751,840, highest of the war years, but $112,000 less than the high reached in 1938.

Total attendance at fairs in 1945 is reported to be 1,608,963 compared with 1,324,410 in 1944 and the pre-war record of 3,608,355 attained in 1939 when 84 fairs were held.

TOMATO PLANTS MAY BE SCARCE

Adams county tomato growers will find that tomato plants grown from Pennsylvania certified seed will be scarcer this spring than for nearly 15 years, according to K. W. Lauer, in charge of seed certification in the Bureau of Plant Industry, state Department of Agriculture.

The growing season in 1945 was most unfavorable for tomatoes, the seed specialist reminded. Conditions brought about the lowest production of certified tomato seed since 1931. Total output last year was only 6,508 pounds compared with 14,374 pounds in 1944 and more than 16,000 pounds in 1943.

State field agents inspected tomato seed fields of 62 Pennsylvania growers last year. These growers produced seed for two seed houses

BIGLERVILLE NEEDS 50 NEW HOUSING UNITS

Biglerville needs at least 50 new homes if the community is to get rid of the growing pains that have made the borough's housing shortage more and more acute during the past year.

J. Hoke Slaybaugh, burgess of the community, today estimated that 35 new homes in the $3,500-$4,500 price range are needed and 15 additional homes in the $6,000-$7,000 range to take care of the borough's housing problem.

With the borough increasing its population by about 25 per cent since 1936, and with the return of soldiers whose families have doubled up with parents for the past several years, the community is in great need of expanded housing facilities.

Employment in the borough is continuing at a high pace with most of the organizations hiring as many men and women as before and in some cases taking on new help, the burgess pointed out, and as a result the main trouble of the town at present is securing proper housing accommodations. A few houses have been getting underway in the Biglerville neighborhood but so far materials are not available for the needed construction.

Meantime plans for development in the borough are going on apace, with the town ready for thousands of dollars worth of construction work when the materials are purchasable. A number of stores and business establishments are planning expansion when the materials are secure in addition to the plans for building that have been made by a number of persons.

A freezing locker and a theater are on the list of new business structures announced for the community. and one large processing plant. Seeds will be sent to southern states early in the spring and young plants will be shipped north for planting by Pennsylvania commercial growers.

All varieties of tomatoes grown for state certification are well adapted to Pennsylvania growing conditions, Lauer said. Rutgers led in poundage to pass all certification tests with a total of 4,276 pounds. The next popular variety was Grothens Red Globe with 1,240 pounds certified. Others included 505 pounds of Marglobe, 230 pounds of Pan American, 55 pounds of Pritchard, 33 pounds of Indian Baltimore and 5 pounds of Early Canner.

Plan Erosion Control — The 1946 farm program should include plans for effective erosion control, reminds Frank G. Bamer, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Transplanting Vegetables

The use of pots and bands for growing certain vegetable plants in coldframes enables gardeners to gain from three to six weeks of valuable time in the early garden. But of course, as every grower knows, vegetables like cucumbers, beets and others with slender taproots do not permit transplanting in the ordinary meaning of the term. These demand special treatment in order to gain the advantages usually obtained with such crops as cabbage, broccoli, tomatoes and celery through using pots and bands.

In most cases the last named group may be started in a seedflat, coldframe, hotbed or even in a small window box and the seedlings pricked out after true leaves form and shifted to individual containers. Thereafter they should be kept growing steadily in a sunny coldframe while the gardener waits for soil and weather conditions to permit final transplanting to their growing sites.

With such non-transplantable vegetables as the cucurbits, it is possible to start a few extra plants by planting two to four seeds in individual plant bands. Such bands may be nothing more than small fruit baskets or special wooden bands sold for this purpose. Or homemade bands may be fashioned by cutting both ends from tin cans and then slitting the cylinders from top to bottom and holding the metal in shape with a wire or cord. By placing the container on a flat board surface in the coldframe and filling it with soil, it becomes the equivalent of an individual pot. Plants are kept growing in these until time to permit fine transplanting to their growing sites. Then the cord or wire is cut and the entire soil and root mass can be shifted to the ground without in any manner interfering with the roots.

Another excellent way to start a few hills of early cucumbers or summer squash is to spade under a heavy application of well rotted manure in a strip of soil two feet wide and as long as plans require, with the row running east and west. A board 8 to 10 or 12 inches wide is supported to stakes along the north side, with a 3- or 4-inch board along the south side, and the row left 3 feet wide. Standard hotbed and coldframe sash (3 by 6 feet) and laid lengthwise along the boards, forming a temporary coldframe. Cucumbers are most profitable grown in this manner, although beets and many other vegetables permit a similar treatment if equipment is available. After frost dangers are past the sash and sideboards can be removed and the crops continued under normal tillage. Several weeks of time is gained.

Cabbage, tomatoes, broccoli, cauliflower, collards, okra, peppers, eggplant, celery, and Swiss chard are easily grown by the pot or band method already suggested.

The temporary coldframe placed over row crops is practicable with a few rows of snap beans, carrots or any of the other vegetables if desired. It is usually a matter of obtaining or having sufficient sash for the purpose.

It will be observed, however, that the gardener who was thoughtful enough last fall to store away in a dry place an ample supply of dry loam is in a position to take fuller advantage of these profitable shortcuts to extra early vegetables.

CANNERS SEEK TOMATO CROPS

Adams county canners have begun canvassing farmers in Adams, Franklin, and other nearby counties to secure contracts for tomato plantings.

While all of the canneries using tomatoes have started their usual preparatory work in connection with the tomato season the Knouse corporation at Peach Glen this year has started a new program to interest the youngsters in the production of tomatoes.

Edwin R. Rice, and Joseph Carbaugh, Arendtsville, field representatives for the organization, are planning to institute tomato clubs for boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 inclusive.

The clubs will have no less than 10 nor more than 15 members and each club member who produced 10 tons or more on his or her acre of land devoted to tomatoes will be given a free three-day trip to Washington.

Within each group, the boy or girl who produces the greatest tonnage per acre will be given an award of a $25 war bond. The second highest producer will receive $7.50 in cash and the third highest $5.

Mr. Rice, a former Franklin coun-

DAIRY PROFITS WILL RESPOND TO REGULATION

Adams county's dairy farmers can boost their own profits, increase the annual production per cow, and at the same time assure consumers of a more even flow of milk. All this can be accomplished by merely regulating their herds so that more cows will freshen in the period between September and February.

R. H. Olmstead, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college, reports that a study of records reveals that dairymen are actually failing to get the most returns above feed costs, and still are producing a surplus of milk each spring.

Records proved that when cows freshen September to February — and there is usually a shortage of milk each fall — the cows not only provide greater returns above feed costs, but actually increase their own yearly output of milk.

"Efficient Management"
This, he explains, results when a fall-freshened cow strikes the spring pasture season near the close of the lactation period, and is stimulated into a larger production. Such practices will permit culling herds to a few outstanding producers instead of wasting feed on poorer cows.

The survey shows that cows freshening in May, June, and July averaged less milk per cow on a yearly basis, yet had a feed cost of 20 cents higher for each hundredweight of milk, compared to cows freshening in the September to February period.

By having more cows freshen in the September to February period, dairymen can also regulate their labor load more efficiently, permitting the dairy chores to be greatest when outside field work is at its lowest. "It all adds up to efficient herd management," said Olmstead.

ty farm agent, said today he hopes to start organizing the clubs in about a week.

Professors in early European universities were hired by the students.

Increased Interest In Home Improvements

The transition from wartime to peacetime activities among Adams countians is marked with an increased interest in the improvement and beautification of rural homes and community grounds. This comment by A. O. Rasmussen, extension specialist in ornamental horticulture, of the Pennsylvania State college, is already reflected by requests for aid in landscaping churches, school-houses and Grange halls.

He forecasts that main interest will lie in proposed development of parks, playgrounds, and athletic fields. Many of these are being planned on a community basis as war memorials.

Further development and beautification of farmsteads was to be expected, Rasmussen says, following the intense interest given to wartime production over a period of years when the aesthetic phases were ignored.

Order Disease-Free Seed — Because there is no known treatment for pea and bean seed-borne diseases, vegetable growers should specify in their seed orders that they want seed produced in the far West in areas free from these diseases, advises A. H. Bauer, extension plant pathologist of the Pennsylvania State college.

Cut Next Winter's Wood — Dry fuelwood gives twice the heat obtained from green material, according to Walter W. Simonds, extension forester of the Pennsylvania State college, who suggests cutting trees now for next winter's fuel, bucking them to length, and ranking or stacking the pieces to dry out.

HELPFUL WIDOW IS SYMBOLIC OF DUTCH PEOPLE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (AP World Traveler)

Amsterdam, Feb. 13.—There could be no better way of giving you our outstanding impression of Holland than to introduce you to the widow of Werverschoof, for she represents the stoutness of heart and self-sacrifice which brought this little country of canals and windmills through the frightfulness of the Hitlerite occupation.

I am not going to tell you her name, for she is not famous or even widely known, though thousands who suffered under Nazi brutality surely remember her in their prayers for her good deeds. Anyway the name does not matter, for she is a symbol.

Mrs. Mack and I discovered the widow of Werverschoof quite by accident. The story began in Amsterdam as we were starting on a trip northward by motor. Our guide pointed out that the highway we were on was the route which less than a year ago was being taken daily by throngs of city dwellers who could not get food in Amsterdam and in desperation tramped or cycled far into the country in search of something to eat among the farms.

"The Hunger March"

They called it "the hunger march." In it were people of all ages and conditions—from old men and women to babies in prams, from beggars to folk carrying valuable jewelry for barter trade. It was some 25 miles into the agricultural zone and the round trip took several days—a cruel journey for people weak from hunger, but there was no alternative, for folk were dying of starvation in Amsterdam.

These people slept where they could, and when they found food—anything edible was food—they took the long trail back to the great city. And the Nazi soldiery used to hide along the way and rob these unfortunates of their hard won treasures which might mean the difference between life and death.

Our chauffeur nodded as this explanation was finished and remarked that he had made the hunger march several times. He added quite incidentally that he had found a friend in a Werverschoof farm who always was ready to help the needy. Mrs. Mack and I asked him if he would introduce us to his benefactor and thus it came about that we finally knocked at the door of a tidy farmhouse and were given a warm welcome.

"They Needed Help"

We were surprised to find that our farmer was a woman—a smiling, middle-aged Dutch housewife surrounded by children.

Well, we saw the family pictures and talked about everything excepting the subject which she kept evading—her benefactions. It was only when we were visiting her big cow barn—for she is a dairy farmer—that she inadvertently gave us a chance to get her story by remarking that during the Nazi occupation Dutch underground agents lived beneath the great haymow.

That broke the ice and with the chauffeur's help we got the story. In that same haymow hunger marchers slept every night, unaware of the agents beneath them.

Daily the widow took in these poor people, sometimes 20 or more at a time, but as she remarked simply: "They needed help."

THINKS TIGERS "TEAM TO BEAT"

Cleveland, Feb. 13 (AP)—Steve O'Neill, manager of the world champion Detroit Tigers, said today his Bengals would be the "team to beat" in a hot American league race this year.

The Irish pilot also predicted the Cleveland Indians, spearheaded by a pitching staff topped by Bob Feller, would be one of the top contenders.

"The Yankees and Red Sox will have power to burn this year with Ted Williams, Joe and Dominic DiMaggio, Tex Hughson, Tommy Henrich and others back in the fold—but the Tigers should be a match for any of them," O'Neill asserted.

O'Neill said the Tigers' regular outfield—Dick Wakefield, Pat Millin and Barney McCoskey—would "rank with the best in the major leagues" and declared Detroit had been strengthened in other important positions.

Detroit's probable starting lineup in defense of its title he listed as Wakefield, Mullin and McCoskey, outfield; Hank Greenberg, first base; Ed Mayo, second; Eddie Lake, obtained from the Red Sox in a trade for Rudy York, shortstop; Pinky Higgins, third base, and George (Birdie) Tebbets, catcher.

"If Higgins and Tebbets are not released from the service this year, the third base job will be wide open, with Rookie Bill Hitchcock, Jimmy Outlaw and Bobby Maier battling for the job," said O'Neill.

"We'll have some good catching with Paul Richards and Bob Swift back and Hervey Riebe out of the service.

State Vs Carnegie Game Is Postponed

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Penn State-Carnegie Tech basketball game, scheduled to be played tonight, was postponed until February 20 by Tech officials who said that although the city's power strike was ended, considerable difficulty would be met in assembling the traveling party.

The tentative postponement of the West Virginia-Pittsburgh basketball game, however, was rescinded with the end of the strike and the game will be played here tonight as slated. If the strike had continued, the game would have been called off by officials who did not want to use electric power at the stadium during the strike-created shortage.

FLORIDA COOL TO BALL TEAMS

Miami, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—The baseball clubs are "poor folks" in Florida this year, a vast station removed from the pampered darlings they were in the pre-war era when their favors were avidly sought.

At the moment the hotel managers of Florida feel that if they never see another ball club it will be soon enough. They are caught in the midst of a tourist boom so fantastic it literally needs to be seen to be understood, and now the hordes of hungry ball players are descending upon them.

If they get through this mess without the secretary of a ball team having shot a hotel manager, or vice versa, it will be a genuine tribute to the decency and forbearance of the American people as a class. The boys are glaring at one another across the lobbies.

The Fall Guy
BY JOE BARRY

Chapter 19

The sun shone brightly over Rush's shoulder as he sat at his desk. He had eaten breakfast an hour before his usual time. He felt that this would be a busy day—
that things were due to happen. As a matter of fact, he intended to spend the day seeing that they happened. He knew that the only way to get all the facts was to light fires
under the individuals concerned.
The facts would boil to the surface
eventually.

On the agenda he had listed in
his mind were several important
fires. To light them he needed fuel.
He stabbed the button of the inter-office communicator. Gertrude answered.

"Has Merwin been around?" he asked.

"He phoned that he'd be in Barney's if you needed him."
"Okay, I'll be there for a while.
I'll call you if anything comes up."

Rush found Merwin engrossed in a Racing Form with a fishbowl of beer at his elbow. Rush slid into the booth opposite him.

"Merwin, I put you on a job yesterday, remember?"

"Oh, yeah, that—"

"Well, have you got anything?"

"Merwin knit his brow in obvious
concentration. "After I left Markio's
I hit a lot of spots. Most of them didn't seem to have no idea what I was talking about. A couple of joints remembered she was in, but she didn't make no play. There was one place where I got a quick freeze
when I mentioned her."

"Big Mick's?" Rush asked.

"Merwin looked up in surprise.
"Yeah, how'd you know, Rush?"

"I heard a rumor. What happened
there?"

"I go in like all the other places and have a quick beer. Then I schmooz awhile with the boys. Then I drop a question or two. The minute I mention the girl's name I get a chill."

"Was Big Mick there?"

"No, just a couple or three of his boys."

ARGENTINA BLASTED AS NAZI PAWN
By GRAHAM HOVEY
Washington, Feb. 13 (P)—The State Department's blast at key Argentine leaders as wartime pawns of Nazi Germany hastened a fresh crisis today in the already badly-strained relations between the United States and Argentina.
Whether a formal break in diplomatic ties will result remained an open question.
Secretary of State Byrnes told reporters the United States does not intend to follow up its "Blue Book" attack on the military rules of Buenos Aires with any single nation action against Argentina. But at least two members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee indicated they expect further diplomatic steps eventually.
"Insolent Intervention"
Dispatches from the Argentine capitol disclosed that at least part of the Blue Book indictment had been published there, and these dispatches speculated on the likelihood of curtailed relations.
Col. Juan Peron, Argentina's strong man and current presidential candidate, refrained in a campaign speech last night from mentioning the "Blue Book" which included assertions that the Nazis had been allowed to set up in Argentina "a complete duplicate of the economic structure for war" which they had in Germany.
However, Peron did assail U. S. Undersecretary of State Spruille Braden for what he called "insolent intervention" in Argentina's affairs.
Aimed At Peron
It is no secret at the State Department that the big hope behind the 131-page "Blue Book" is that it will exert an unfavorable effect on Peron's presidential aspirations in the coming national elections on February 24.
The "Blue Book" was made up in large part of Nazi documents captured by the American army in Germany. These documents, the State Department said, furnish "proof positive" of Argentine "complicity with the enemy."
Discussing the charge that the Germans had been permitted to build "a complete duplicate of the economic structure for war which they had in Germany," the document declared:
Specific Charges
"They possess today in Argentina the economic organization — industrial commercial and agricultural — which they need to provide a base for the reconstitution of German aggressive power during the period when the homeland is still occupied."
Other charges were:
1. That the militarists, including Peron and the present president, Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, assisted in a pro-Axis policy during the war.
2. That they conspired to create a totalitarian state in the western hemisphere and tried to provoke fascist revolutions in Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay and Uruguay.
3. That the Argentine government's Nazi-Fascist methods at home and its anti-Allied policy abroad constituted outright violation of its Pan American commitments and were part of a broad scheme to undermine the inter-American system.

ARGENTINA BLASTED AS NAZI PAWN
By GRAHAM HOVEY
Washington, Feb. 13 (P)—The State Department's blast at key Argentine leaders as wartime pawns of Nazi Germany hastened a fresh crisis today in the already badly-strained relations between the United States and Argentina.
Whether a formal break in diplomatic ties will result remained an open question.
Secretary of State Byrnes told reporters the United States does not intend to follow up its "Blue Book" attack on the military rules of Buenos Aires with any single nation action against Argentina. But at least two members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee indicated they expect further diplomatic steps eventually.
"Insolent Intervention"
Dispatches from the Argentine capitol disclosed that at least part of the Blue Book indictment had been published there, and these dispatches speculated on the likelihood of curtailed relations.
Col. Juan Peron, Argentina's strong man and current presidential candidate, refrained in a campaign speech last night from mentioning the "Blue Book" which included assertions that the Nazis had been allowed to set up in Argentina "a complete duplicate of the economic structure for war" which they had in Germany.
However, Peron did assail U. S. Undersecretary of State Spruille Braden for what he called "insolent intervention" in Argentina's affairs.
Aimed At Peron
It is no secret at the State Department that the big hope behind the 131-page "Blue Book" is that it will exert an unfavorable effect on Peron's presidential aspirations in the coming national elections on February 24.
The "Blue Book" was made up in large part of Nazi documents captured by the American army in Germany. These documents, the State Department said, furnish "proof positive" of Argentine "complicity with the enemy."
Discussing the charge that the Germans had been permitted to build "a complete duplicate of the economic structure for war which they had in Germany," the document declared:
Specific Charges
"They possess today in Argentina the economic organization — industrial commercial and agricultural — which they need to provide a base for the reconstitution of German aggressive power during the period when the homeland is still occupied."
Other charges were:
1. That the militarists, including Peron and the present president, Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, assisted in a pro-Axis policy during the war.
2. That they conspired to create a totalitarian state in the western hemisphere and tried to provoke fascist revolutions in Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay and Uruguay.
3. That the Argentine government's Nazi-Fascist methods at home and its anti-Allied policy abroad constituted outright violation of its Pan American commitments and were part of a broad scheme to undermine the inter-American system.

14 INJURED IN TORNADO
Ardmore, Okla., Feb. 13 (P) — At least 14 persons were injured, none seriously, in a tornado which struck this southern Oklahoma city of 20,000 early today, strewn homes in its path and disrupting telephone and power lines.
The city was plunged into complete darkness when telephone and power poles were snapped by the storm as it centered its force in the southeastern part of Ardmore.
Lt. Arch Merriott of the state highway patrol reported that 14 persons had been hospitalized and that rescue workers still were groping through the debris for other injured.
At least 25 houses were demolished and a number of others were unroofed or otherwise damaged. The storm hit the east end of the main thoroughfare, partially wrecking one brick building, tearing bricks from others and littering the street with signs.
Most of the streets in the center of the storm area were blocked by fallen trees, telephone and power poles. Lack of lights hampered rescue work.

SUPREME COURT SUSTAINS CURB ON PICKETING
Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (P) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court today dismissed a CIO-United Steelworkers appeal from a preliminary injunction limiting picketing at Carnegie-Illinois mills in the Pittsburgh area.
The ruling was by a four to one majority of the court with Justice Charles Alvin Jones dissenting. Justices Horace Stern and James Drew did not participate.
The tribunal at the same time ordered that a hearing on whether the injunction should be made permanent be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in Pittsburgh.
Allegheny county (Pittsburgh) court granted the injunction with the union appealing to the state's highest tribunal on claims a hearing should have been held before the ruling was made.
The union's brief contended "It was clearly an arbitrary and capricious act to grant a preliminary injunction at all," adding:
"The court's order involved a very clear and sharp curtailment of the basic rights without regard to any legitimate need. . . . The court made no inquiry and took no testimony."
No testimony from the union was necessary, argued the Steel Corporation, in a situation where "irreparable injury is being done or is imminent."
The union was charged by Car-

Foreign Policy Is Attacked By Solon
Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (P)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.), minority floor leader, declared in a radio address last night the administration's foreign policy has been as "unstable as a weather vane, shifting with every wind."
And in domestic affairs, he said, "six months have elapsed and we still talk about reconversion plans."
Martin asserted the "deadly poison of bureaucratic waste, irresponsible spending, deficit financing and de-
